

Employee Appreciation Awards Script (Excerpt)

Award Winner 1 was nominated because of her excelling work ethic and professionalism. The award winner reflects this winning style because she performs at the highest levels to technically support all others in her school. Her integrity, self management, and responsibility showcase impeccable abilities that translate to the students, teachers and staff who come into contact with her efforts on a daily basis. The award winner's high degree of knowledge, skill, and positive attitude is responsible for implementing new technologies and for performing at higher levels of efficiencies.

Award Winner 2 was nominated because of his volunteerism and positive attitude. The award winner always provides assistance even during the busiest of times. He is highly motivated and seeks ways to more efficiently manage his time and the events surrounding him. The energy and sense of fulfillment that the award winner brings to his efforts is witnessed by his community and his students. They are all the better for it-a positive attitude is a little thing that makes a big difference. The award winner's efforts are all worthwhile and delivered in a conscientious way.

Award Winner 3 was nominated because of his commitment to excellence and commitment to his responsibilities. The award winner, at every turn, delivers on collaboration, teamwork, and results. He strengthens the relationship with his fellow employees, students, parents and the community. The award winner's commitment is shaping a difference. This award winner embodies a safety first culture in our Department and always makes the personal and professional best choice. His availability and mentoring of other employees ensures that our students are cared for and that they are a priority.

Award Winner 4 was nominated because of her extraordinary impact in the classroom, the inclusive involvement with parents and for bringing recognition to our community. Because Pre-school is one of the first introductions to our School system, our award winner exhibits patience, kindness and ensures that each student grasps the concepts of the subjects being taught. Our award winner reaches out to our parents and updates them on the progress of their children, acknowledging that success is more effective when communication is a two way street. Our community is stronger because our award winner makes certain that accreditation, state rules, and guidelines are followed. These extraordinary efforts allow us to be eligible for grants and pass inspections.
