

Real Estate Agent Bio

"I am dedicated in presenting you unique locations, elegant amenities, comfort and beautiful settings. I look forward to working with you and finding the perfect property to fit your needs.".... "C"

Luxury home specialist, "C" puts her 20 years of real estate experience into satisfying her clients' needs. With an emphasis on luxury, home sales, custom lot re-sales and golf communities, "C" is one of the most productive and respected agents in Scottsdale, AZ.

"C"'s extensive connections, in the Scottsdale community, is also a tremendous resource as she provides many more options available to both buyers and sellers.

1999 was a productive year for "C", being nominated as the development listing agent for SilverLeaf at DC Ranch, the exclusive golf and award winning community in Scottsdale. With its exceptional clubhouse and breathtaking views, SilverLeaf is a premier destination. As a homeowner and club member, "C"'s intimate knowledge of Silverleaf ensures a first rate understanding and familiarity of this prestigious development.

"C"'s commitment to Scottsdales' residents also includes an allegiance to the community, long after the real estate transaction is over. Her support of the Scottsdale School District, the Scottsdale Soccer and Little Leagues brings "C" full circle. "C" is also a member of the National Association of Realtors and the Scottsdale Association of Realtors.

Success has followed “R” throughout her professional life, beginning with graduating at the top of her law school class at Stanford University. “R” represented “Company” as the Marketing and Business Development VP and helped guide the company through their many growth and acquisition stages.

“R” then enjoyed a life of semi-retirement, which included designing and building several luxury homes. She also lent her legal and marketing expertise to selected Arizona philanthropic organizations.

In the next stage of a productive life, “R” decided to channel her energy into the Scottsdale real estate market. As a DC Ranch, luxury home resident, “R” brings her intimate knowledge of the area and her ability to successfully advocate on behalf of her clients. An excellent problem solver, she understands the nuances of buying and selling luxury real estate and the need for detailed documentation, privacy and confidentiality.

“R”’s skill in negotiating and communicating is already serving her clients well in bringing about their real estate goals. “R” is actively involved in the Arizona Foundation for Women and The Sojourner Center.

“Being a good listener and having a high commitment to professionalism allows me to collaborate and meet the needs of each of our individual clients. The buying and selling of luxury homes requires focus and preparation. I look forward to representing you.”.....”R”
